

Text Structure Review and Practice

EXAMPLE (I DO, WE DO)

Topic: Ice Cream

Chronological Order:

The earliest evidence of ice cream dates back to China around 618 A.D., but the process of making ice cream didn't get perfected until 1503 when Europeans developed new methods of freezing. By 1843, most of Europe was eating this popular snack. By the early 1900's, most grocery stores were selling this cold treat.

Cause & Effect:

If you eat ice cream too fast, you'll get a brain freeze.

Compare & Contrast:

There are many types of ice creams as there are many types of cookies. Recently, many people have put traditional cookie ingredients into ice cream like Heath Bars and Oreo Cookies. However, there has never been a plain vanilla cookie made.

Problem & Solution:

If you run out of ice cream, you'd better rush to the store for more!

Sequence:

To make yourself a bowl of ice cream, first get a bowl and spoon. Get the ice cream out of the freezer and open the container. Scoop out the desired amount of ice cream into your bowl. Next, put the lid back on the ice cream and return it to the freezer. Lastly, grab your spoon, bowl, and a napkin and enjoy!

Description:

Ice cream is made from milk, sugar, and eggs. It can be made into several different flavors by adding different ingredients. It is frozen to make it solid.

Name _____

YOU DO

Topic: Pizza

Chronological Order:

Cause & Effect:

Compare & Contrast:

Problem & Solution:

Sequence:

Description: